

Two Astronauts Preparing For Ride In Space

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Steak and baby food, medical checks, star-gazing, make-believe space rides—that's what an astronaut's day is made of.

Virgil I. Grissom and John H. Glenn Jr., had these items, to be in schedule today as they entered the final phase of preparation for America's second manned space flight, scheduled Tuesday morning.

Grissom, 35, an Air Force captain is reliably reported to be the No. 1 choice for the flight. With Glenn, 39, a Marine lieutenant colonel, standing by as backup pilot as he did on the Alan B. Shepard flight.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration will reveal the name of the chosen astronaut Monday, 24 hours before launch.

The flight will be a near-duplicate of Shepard's trip May 5. A Redstone rocket is to boost the manned capsule 115 miles high and 300 miles down range in a test designed to train another space pilot and build experience and confidence for future orbit missions.

Grissom and Glenn today began a low-residue high energy diet to reduce possibility of excretion and provide quick-burning reserve strength during flight. They were served in a special ready room at the Cape. An official outlined this typical one-day menu:

Breakfast — orange juice, hot cereal, Canadian bacon, two boiled eggs, toast, jelly and coffee. Lunch—broiled chicken baby food-type peas, bread without crust, cottage cheese salad, ice tea and sugar cookies. Dinner—broiled potato without skin, baby food vegetable, sherbet and coffee.

Both astronauts will be donned in space suits and run through practice missions while seated in the actual space capsule atop the Redstone. They also studied charts of the heavens and the earth beneath the planned capsule path so certain features will be recognizable.

The astronauts have picked the name Liberty Bell 7 for the spacecraft. Shepard's vehicle was Freedom 7. The number represents the total membership of the Mercury astronaut team.

Liberty Bell 7 contains several modifications, including a large observation window, improved manual controls and a new escape hatch designed for quicker exit in case of emergency.

Midas Circles Earth Every Two Hours

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (AP)—A Midas satellite equipped to detect hostile missile firings was circling the earth every 2 hours and 40 minutes today in a record-breaking orbit that repeatedly takes it over the Soviet Union.

Midas II, the first in the missile-alarm series to be launched from the West Coast, carries infrared equipment which can spot rocket exhaust.

The rocket—a big Atlas booster topped by an Agena second-stage vehicle—blasted off at 8:12 a.m. Wednesday from this Navy missile base adjacent to Vandenberg Air Force Base.

Air Force officials were jubilant, since the high altitude and circular orbit will permit the spy-type vehicle to scan wider areas.

Some officials were firm, however, in refusing to issue progress reports on the satellite. All they would say was that Midas II's first pass over the Soviet Union would take place five hours after launch and that it would be in scanning range of Soviet missile bases in the Ural Mountains six hours later.

Ultimately, a network of sky-scouts is expected to double the present 15-minute radar warning time of missile attack.

Storm Damage in Hope

A TORRENTIAL RAIN AND WIND STORM RAKED HOPE FRIDAY NIGHT uprooting trees and damaging roofs and awnings throughout the city.

PHOTOGRAPH, MADE AT 5:30 THIS MORNING, SHOWS MOST SPECTACULAR scene, at Second and Hazel Sts., where a huge tree smashed into Oakcrest Mortuary, Inc. Trees also were down at the Dairy Queen, East Third St., on South Shover and elsewhere.

WATER DAMAGE WAS REPORTED AT HOME FURNITURE CO., YOUNG Chevrolet and Nun-Pentecost Motor Cos., although damage estimates could not be obtained early Saturday. Several store awnings were smashed up town. Municipal electric service was cut off nearly three hours in the south residential district Friday night, but service in the downtown district was maintained throughout the storm. Residential electric lines were reported down in many areas.

No Trace of Youth in a Full Year

GRANADA HILLS, Calif. (AP)—It's a year now since Bruce Kremen, 8, set out enthusiastically on a YMCA hike from which he never returned.

The youngster disappeared in the vast reaches of the nearby Angeles National Forest, where three other children have vanished in recent years.

But his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kremen of Granada Hills, have clung to the hope that somehow he may still be alive.

"We haven't lived a normal day since Bruce's disappearance, but we are sure some day he will rejoin us," said Mrs. Kremen.

The Kremens, parents of another child, Jeffrey, 13, believe their younger son was kidnapped.

"What else can we believe when no other clues were uncovered in a year's time?" the mother asked. Bruce whose ninth birthday is July 21, was reported missing by YMCA officials July 13, 1960.

He was last seen by two companions on a trail about half a mile from the Buckhorn Flats area after the three boys decided to leave their group and return to camp.

Capt. C. D. Fontaine, command-in-chief of the Los Angeles County sheriff's juvenile bureau, said more man-hours have been spent on Bruce's case than on any other lost person in this state.

An 11-day search, including volunteers, was called off after no clues were found last July.

"We have sent crews back many times," Fontaine said.

The forest, mountainous and heavily wooded, covers 691,032 acres.

More Showers Across Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More showers and rain splashed across broad areas of the nation today in the wake of heavy rain and stormy weather in some sections.

The wet belt extended in scattered sections from the mountain ranges in the Far West to New York State.

Thunderstorms and showers hit along a cold frontal trough in the upper and middle Mississippi Valley, western Arkansas and in Oklahoma. Heaviest rainfall was in western Arkansas and Oklahoma. More than two inches of rain fell in Norman, Okla., in a six-hour period. Heavy rain, hail and strong winds hit some Midwest areas.

Rain doused Texas for the fourth straight day. At least seven persons have died in storm-related accidents or drownings.

Contract Let on Titan Base

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House notified Rep. Dale Milford, D-Ark., that Army today will award a $37,700,000 contract for construction work on a Titan II installation at the Little Rock Air Force Base.

The contract, Milford was advised, will be awarded to Paul E. Hardman, Inc., and Fishback & Moore, Inc., both of Stanton, Calif.

Strong Winds Damage Hope Friday Night

Strong winds accompanying a heavy thunderstorm struck here Friday night, inflicting heavy property damage and knocking out an estimated 10 per cent of the city's power. There were no injuries immediately reported.

Patrolman Wallace Martin said police sighted a funnel cloud north of here shortly before the storm struck. It was not thought to have hit the city.

Trees were reported down in many sections of the city and roof and window damage was believed widespread.

Officers were placed on guard at several downtown businesses where windows or roofs were damaged.

State Police Lt. J. H. Porterfield said, "Every street was littered with brush and leaves and big trees that were uprooted."

The police radio system was knocked out and officers were forced to use "walkie-talkies" for communications.

At Texarkana, 30 miles away, the storm was reported to have diminished and the damage was minor. Only a few trees were blown over. Winds with gusts up to 33 miles an hour were recorded at Texarkana.

Dennis Bell, superintendent of Hope's city-owned power plant said the department was working hard to restore power services and to keep residents off hot power lines.

But he said it would probably be sometime Saturday morning before all power was restored.

A funeral home at Hope suffered heavy damage when it was struck by a large falling tree.

Jas. Clayton, Conway Radio Owner, Dies

James E. Clayton, 53, president of Radio Station KCON of Conway, died of a heart attack in the Conway hospital early today. He was stricken Friday afternoon and taken to the hospital, where he died at 1:45 this morning.

Mr. Clayton is survived by his wife, Mrs. Midge Wade Clayton, and one sister, Mrs. Chester Munn. He was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Jess Davis of Hope.

Mr. Clayton, member of the Baptist Church, was a pioneer radio figure in Arkansas, serving as chief engineer for KARK, Little Rock, for many years. In the 1950's he organized his own company and established KCON in his native Conway.

Funeral services at Conway were incomplete Saturday morning.

Claims Atrocities by Portuguese

LONDON (AP)—The Baptist Missionary Society today claimed it has a mass of evidence, including eyewitness accounts, of Portuguese atrocities against the natives of Angola.

The society issued its statement in reply to a denial by the Portuguese Foreign Ministry that any such atrocities had occurred.

"Our missionaries," the statement said, "have long been witnesses of barbarous repression, and some of them have now submitted their statements to a commission of the United Nations."

Community Puts Clamps On Flow Of Welfare Aid

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—This Hudson Valley community of 31,000, acting in defiance of New York state, today puts into effect a 13-point program clamping down on the flow of welfare aid.

The controversial set of regulations, designed by the Republican-controlled City Council to shrink the welfare bill, has brought praise and condemnation from across the nation.

State officials, up to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, have expressed opposition to the regulations. The State Welfare Department said the rules are contrary to federal and state law.

But City Manager Joseph Mitchell insisted "they are legal" and said the city was within its rights in putting them into effect.

Mitchell claims that more rigid requirements were needed to curb welfare costs, now amounting to $983,005 out of a $3 million city budget.

More than half the aid, however, comes from federal and state contributions. State officials fear that imposition of the restrictions might block federal welfare funds to all state communities.

In Washington, a Social Security spokesman said his agency is watching developments in Newburgh. But he said any comment on the situation now would be "inappropriate."

A question still to be answered was what action Gov. Rockefeller plans to take.

Rockefeller, a Republican, said he has "the authority and power to remove local government officials from office" if they violate the state law and constitution, which includes provisions for the needy.

Among the 13-points are those which provide:

"That welfare recipients, except the blind and infirm, be limited to three months of public assistance in any one year.

"That unwed mothers who bear additional children be stricken from welfare rolls.

"That payments be halted to all able-bodied men who refuse work on city projects.

Fly Swatter Makes Him Feel Power

LENOX, Mass. (AP)—Comedian Danny Kaye, who says leading an orchestra gives him a feeling of power, conducted the Boston Symphony Orchestra through "The Flight of the Bumblebee" with a fly-swatter Thursday night.

Dr. Charles Munch, august music director of the famed Boston Symphony, was relegated to the piano. Kaye, who called Munch "Chuck," sent him there.

Kaye's conducting came at a benefit performance. He made his grand entrance with four batons. He walked onto the stage, across and out the other side.

Pretty soon he found the podium. He formally shook hands with the first violinist, and kissed lady members of the symphony. Then he gave two of his batons to orchestra members, and broke the other two.

Some 6,000 music lovers crowded the Berkshire Music Festival at Tanglewood to watch Kaye and the orchestra. The comedian advised them he can't read a note of music. The performance raised more than $25,000 for the musicians' pension fund.

The 104 members of the orchestra were formally clad. Kaye arrived in a sport jacket.

It was a warm night, so Kaye had members of the orchestra play one number standing up, so they would be cooler. Then he had the audience stand up for a while.

German Sentenced as Soviet Spy

KARLSRUHE, West Germany (AP)—A former West German naval officer was sentenced today to 10 years in prison for spying for the Soviet Union.

The court said former Lt. Cmdr. Walter Krenz was the first officer of West Germany's postwar armed forces to be convicted of espionage committed while in the service.

He gave the Soviets naval secrets from 1957 until his arrest last January, the court said. He was dishonorably discharged after his arrest.

Philippines Most Loyal to the U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Philippines is this country's most loyal ally, says the man who freed the islands from Japanese occupation—Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Returning here Thursday night after a triumphant tour of the Philippines, the 81-year-old retired warrior told newsmen his reception there had been "fabulous and overwhelming and beyond any possible adequate expression of gratitude."

West Tossing Mr. Ks Words Back at Him

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Suddenly the West is beginning to belt Premier Khrushchev, gag him on his own words, put him on the defensive. It's a switch. He's been doing the piling, the West the catching.

If this is a put-up job — agreement between Western allies to turn the tables — this writer hasn't been able to nail it down. But they've conferred steadily on his Berlin rumpus. Now together they're peltshotting him.

For weeks he's acted like a loudmouth, threatening to push the Allies out of West Berlin, bragging of Soviet power. It's kept the Allies jumpy, defensive, apparently uncertain how to handle him.

Then this week the blasts from French President Charles de Gaulle, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Lincoln White, State Department press officer and spokesman, and even Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Minnesota Democrat.

De Gaulle, who doesn't talk often, said the West won't let the Soviets settle Berlin's fate by themselves, warned they'll be responsible for any "grave consequences" of a Berlin crisis.

Refugees from Communist East Germany are fleeing into West Berlin at the rate of 1,000 a day. Adenauer said it "proves conditions over there have become unbearable" and a "panic seems to have broken out."

This kind of psychological assault can't help but hurt Khrushchev with satellites and neutrals.

Major cause for the refugee flight seems to be food shortages — for instance, in potatoes and butter — and stepped-up Red pressure upon the East Germans to support communism more actively.

Khrushchev, in his finagling on Berlin, called for signing separate peace treaties with West and East Germany, an unthinkable situation for Adenauer, who wants a single, unified Germany.

But Adenauer's Bonn government used this against Khrushchev, with a twist to hurt.

It pointed out that the Soviet Union, in joining the United Nations, had agreed to the principle that all peoples should have the right to determine their own future. West Germany called on Khrushchev to live up to the pledge, told him:

Sign a peace treaty with a single German government elected by all Germans, East and West. Since letting the East Germans vote on a single German government is the last thing Khrushchev wants, he won't permit it.

But it was good propaganda against him.

Rusk put the whole blame for present world jitters on Communism, said, "The underlying crisis of our generation arises from the fact that the Soviet Union did not join the United Nations in fact as well as in form...The possession of power has transformed it to ambition for more power."

Humphrey hit Khrushchev a lick which must hurt around the world, raise suspicions of Soviet successes, he said Khrushchev was plagued by food shortages of staggering proportions. He said entire Communist empire is on short rations.

The United States accused the Communist East German regime of violating religious liberty by trying to split the Evangelical Church, which exists in both Germany.

While said the purpose is to wreck the church, asked, "Is this the kind of freedom the Soviets desire to extend to 2½ million West Berliners through their so-called 'free city' proposals?"

The State Department denounced the East German Communists for denying the right of all of control and burned 100 acres before some experienced fire fighters arrived to stop it.

Local Girls Do Themselves Proud as Synchronized Swim Team — It Took Hard Work

By Mary Anita Laseter

It takes practice to make a success of anything from diplomatic to playing a "hot" clarinet. The result of practice was certainly shown last Saturday night at Fair Park, when the Hope Girls Synchronized Swimming Team presented a water ballet.

Beauty in rhythm and perfect coordination describes the 30-minute performance by these local girls: Cherry Cox, Linda Cobb, Jennifer Cox, Jan Ellis, Sandra Gaines, Linda Gibson, Mary Gail McBae, Jean Page, Jan Reinhardt, and Ann Ward. A pint-size duo giving an excellent demonstration of skills in water were Lamar Cox and Linda Wray. (What do you mean, you don't understand? Two half-pints make the size mentioned, don't they?)

Five of the girls wore white suits, five were in black suits, and the two little girls wore purple. All of them had bathing caps that had been covered with varnish and glitter to make them show up even prettier under spotlights.

Every morning from June 5 until the show July 7 the girls were coached by David Watkins until the six routines were down "pat." It seems that Johnny Weismuller doesn't do that sort of thing any more. Buster Crabbe couldn't be located, and Esther Williams had a previous engagement. After Saturday night's show, everyone agrees, "Well, who needed 'em?"

At the suggestion of Parks-Recreation Director Charles Gough the team was formed with David Watkins at the helm to call the strokes. Gough recognized the need for planned recreation for girls similar in scope to the baseball teams for boys. Watkins got ideas for the routine from books and from the coach of the Texas Women's University swimming team which recently performed here.

For this type of show where rhythm is the keynote, music was a "must." All are grateful to Jimmy O'Neal for setting up the loud speaker system so that the records could be heard by the swimmers and the audience alike. Making a pleasant appearance between the two divisions of swimming performers was pert little Miss Mary Alice Mosley in a routine with the fire baton.

Spectators saw boys and girls divisions of raft races for ages 6-10, 11-13, and 14-17. There was free style swimming competition for the same age groups of boys and girls also. These were in the second half of the water show.

People who saw the water ballet and swimming competitions at the Municipal Swimming Pool July 8 know that performers practice was not in vain. In fact it made a few more want to get "in the swim of things."

Cost of Weed Control in Cotton Fields

What does it cost to control weeds in cotton? In order to answer this with factual information a survey was conducted by Wade Benefield, associate county agent for Hempstead county. This information was obtained to determine the relative value of hand labor versus pre-emergence weed control for cotton. Eleven farms were visited to determine the cost of hoe labor in controlling weeds and the cost varied from $8.50 to $13.35 per acre with an average cost per acre of $12.40. The farms checked were all of the same soil type and had the same weed problems.

Irvin Burke, Hempstead county farmer, used the pre-emergence chemicals with excellent results this year. He not only controlled early weed growth he produced a better stand of cotton which grew off with less competition than other farmers' crops where this chemical was not used. In addition to all other advantages he saved money. The material for pre-emergence cost $2.25 per acre and he has spent $3.75 per acre for hand labor for a total cost of $6.00 per acre. This has resulted in a saving of $6.39 per acre over the average cost of the farms which used hand labor for weed control.

FOIT HALL, Idaho (AP)—About 100 men learning how to fight fires started one Thursday on the Fort Hall Indian Reservation just for practice. But it got out of control and burned 100 acres before some experienced fire fighters arrived to stop it.

Took Tour Guide to Keep Order

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—When Harold D. Spencer, a retired New York printing executive, brought his family to Southern California for a vacation, he had to appoint one of them as "tour guide" to keep order.

The reason: Spencer and his wife Rachael had invited their five children and their spouses, plus 17 grandchildren. Also making the trip was the Spencers' houseman from their home at Clinton Corners, N. Y.

Twenty-eight of the group arrived in Los Angeles Thursday aboard the Santa Fe Super Chief. They filled one car and overlapped into a second. Two others, including Mrs. Spencer, came by plane.

Spencer, 70, said of the trip: "We just thought it would be a good idea. The family hasn't all been together for a long time."

Auto Strike Could Come Next Month

By DWIGHT PITKIN

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—After nearly 2½ weeks of bargaining, the auto companies and the United Auto Workers came to grips today on issues that could lead to a strike in the auto industry if they aren't settled by the end of next month.

The issues represent the union's bread-and-butter demands—higher wages and improved fringe benefits.

General Motors Corp. served notice Thursday that "both subjects will be a most serious part of our collective bargaining talks three-year contracts with GM, Ford and Chrysler expire Aug. 31."

GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton said, "We say this because it is obvious too great an increase in employment costs whether in the form of wages, fringe benefits, or both, can only push up costs to the point where renewed inflation would again result in rising prices."

The union singled out GM in outlining its wage demands for the first time. They figured out to an increase of at least 26 cents an hour in the basic wages of GM's 310,000 production workers. This would include the 17 cents an hour cost of living allowance UAW members now receive in addition to straight time pay of $2.55.

The UAW put no estimates on its wage demands but it issued a statement declaring it was inaccurate and misleading to say they would amount basically to an increase of 26 cents an hour.

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock, head of the union's bargaining team at GM said in no way could the 17 cents cost of living allowance be considered "new money."

Woodcock described GM's attitude as "un-General Motors-like" because, he said, GM had joined the UAW in 1948 in pioneering the auto industry wage formula. He said two former GM presidents, C. E. Wilson and Harlow Curtice, had called the formula noninflationary.

Under present contracts, the auto workers get an annual wage increase of 2½ per cent or 6 cents an hour. The union seeks to boost this to at least 3.4 per cent or about 9 cents an hour. This is known as the annual improvement factor and is based on the theory of annual growth in the nation's productivity.

The union wants the 17-cent cost of living allowance made permanent in the new contracts. It also seeks to keep in effect the escalator clause tying wages with the ups and downs of the government's cost of living index.

The UAW bargaining teams plan to wind up presentation of their main demands today at GM and Ford.

The union is taking time out at Chrysler to hear some contract changes the company would like to make.

Commons Just Like Congress

"I'm very impressed. It's just like Congress—not many people there and most of them asleep." His visit to the House was arranged by Punch, the British satirical magazine.

GOP Calls For Briefing On Berlin Crisis

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two liberal Republican senators have called for full congressional briefings on U.S. military readiness to meet the Berlin crisis.

Senators John S. Cooper, of Kentucky, and Jacob K. Javits, of New York, also said Friday they would vote new taxes, if necessary to finance additional military and foreign aid spending.

The foreign aid program got a new push from Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Fulbright said he will call night meetings of the committee unless it makes progress next Monday and Tuesday on the foreign aid bill.

President Kennedy has taken personal command of the administration drive to dispel seeming reluctance of Senate and House committees to approve the $4.8 billion foreign aid measure.

The President invited members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee to the White House Friday to discuss the legislation. The session followed a similar meeting Thursday with members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Monday Kennedy will see more senators.

As Cooper and Javits called for more information, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., urged tough action to show "the world that we mean business."

Goldwater, a spokesman for Senate GOP conservatives, said the United States should resume nuclear testing immediately and urged Kennedy to declare officially "that it is our purpose to win the cold war, not merely wage it in the hope of attaining a stand-off."

Goldwater said administration foreign policy, as voiced by Fulbright in a Senate speech June 20, was "a plan for more useless expenditures in the name of more hopeless objectives."

Fulbright had said it would be dangerous decline to permit the United States to be drawn "into costly commitments of its resources to peripheral struggles in which the principal Communist powers are not themselves directly involved."

Goldwater saw in Fulbright's speech a call "for further costly implementation of an outmoded, weak-kneed foreign policy which accomplishes nothing but more and greater losses of freedom's territory."

Saigon Experts Coming to U.S.

Saigon, South Viet Nam (AP)—A team of American experts left for Washington today to present President Kennedy a crash program designed to turn the tide in South Viet Nam's war against Communist rebels.

Some high officials here feel the proposals—both military and economic—could be one of the most important factors in whether this threatened nation survives in the critical months ahead.

It would call for a considerably larger outlay of American aid, informed sources indicated.

The American team, headed by Dr. Eugene Staley of the Stanford Research Institute, spent three weeks here working with Vietnamese experts. Their joint report is still secret.

Paris Parades on Bastille Day

PARIS (AP)—Bastille Day parades in Paris and Algeria today stirred sentiments in Frenchmen ranging from patriotism to rebellion, emphasizing the deep split in the nation over the future of Algeria.

In Paris thousands cheered as President Charles de Gaulle waved from an open car along the broad Champs-Elysees. Applause burst out for nearly all military units of 11,000 troops in the traditional review on France's national holiday commemorating the French Revolution's start.

But in Algiers and Oran the few spectators withheld applause from the French army regulars who had remained loyal to De Gaulle through the abortive generals' putsch in April. The crowds shouted "Algeria is French" to hail the paratroop and Foreign Legion units that sided with the generals in opposition to De Gaulle's offer to negotiate on Algerian independence.

Protests Won't Stop Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today the few protests won't stop him from addressing the national Business and Professional Women's convention in Chicago.

Faubus is to talk July 23, opening day of the meeting. The association's national president, Miss Fannie Hardy of Little Rock, said Thursday that her speaking invitation to Faubus had aroused some opposition.

Miss Hardy also is assistant state insurance commissioner.

Faubus in a prepared statement today said the BPW was a fine organization and "I will not be deterred by a few protests."

Miss Hardy said it is customary for the nation president's governor to be invited.

Freeway Bridge Is Now Open

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The six-lane Freeway Bridge, a future link in the interstate highway system, will open to local traffic Saturday.

Completion of the $37.6 million freeway is scheduled for late 1963 or early 1964.

The first contract on the bridge was let Oct. 24, 1957. Total cost of the bridge was $4,335,000 with the bridge and approaches scheduled for opening today totaling $7,340,000.

Little Rock has not had an Arkansas River bridge opening since 1924 when the $1 million new Main Street Bridge was completed.

Chrysler Offers Wage Cut Plan

By DWIGHT PITKIN

DETROIT (AP)—A proposal by Chrysler Corp. that wages and salaries be reduced in certain job classifications was presented to the United Auto Workers union today.

It marked the first management proposals made by a member of the Big Three since new contract talks began.

Chrysler proposed that wages be reduced for future employees at its six defense plants in order to keep pay scales competitive. It also proposed reducing starting salaries for office and engineering workers on grounds such salaries currently are higher than those at competitors.

Norman Matthews, UAW vice president and director of its Chrysler Department, replied "my answer is a flat 'no' to both of them. These are proposals for wage cuts and I have absolutely no enthusiasm for wage cuts."

"These proposals destroy all the UAW has fought for all these years. We have fought for equal pay for equal work."

A Chrysler spokesman replied that "in some wage areas our minimums are higher than other companies' minimums."

The spokesman said no wage cuts would result but that employees hired in the future would get a pay rate "comparable to similar jobs in other companies."

Chrysler employees some 6,800 at its defense plants in Warren and Sterling Township, Mich.; Newark, Del.; Scranton, Pa.; Huntsville, Ala.; and Coca Beach, Fla.

The UAW today presented General Motors the same demands for higher levels of pension benefits it gave Ford earlier this week.

The union also proposed optional retirement at age 60. It said this would help create job opportunities for GM workers.

The proposal also included demands for survivor benefits for the widow of a pensioner and investment of portions of the pension fund in community and housing projects in areas where GM has plants.

After nearly 2½ weeks of bargaining, the UAW and the auto companies have come to grips on issues that could lead to a strike in the auto industry if they aren't settled by the end of next month.

Wife Wants Husband to Be Jealous

By HELEN WOREN WERSKINE

Dear Helen: I'm worried sick because my husband is never jealous, no matter what. We've been married 10 years, have three children and probably get along better than most couples but — I want more than a Darby and John marriage. Hoping to give him a jolt or two, I went dancing at a night club with my girl friend, then made a point of telling him where we went and what we did. All he said was, "You're over 21 and know what you want. Just because you're married to me doesn't mean you've got to stick around home all the time."

Now I ask you, is that love? My girl friend's husband threatened to give her a black eye or worse, and was she happy? If my husband loved me, shouldn't he have been even a teeny bit mad? — Fearful

Dear Fearful: Your marriage has hit the doldrums, which is not unusual after 10 years of calm sailing. Needling your husband in the hope of making him jealous isn't the answer. Jealousy is a symptom of insecurity, not an evidence of love. It takes careful planning on the part of both husband and wife to keep a marriage from drifting. Put a little wind in the sails by giving your husband a sincere, frank statement of facts. Speak from the heart. Tell him of your fears and hopes. Urge him, if he wants your mutual happiness, to pull with, instead of away from you. Encourage him to talk too — find out what, if anything, troubles him. Be enthusiastic about your marriage and he will be. Enthusiasm is contagious!

Dear Helen: My husband and I are having a difference of opinion over my first name. I was baptized "Marjorie" but called "Agnes" by family and friends. Today, that is the name I go by. My husband contends that this will cause trouble should any legal question arise involving my signature. I was married under the name "Agnes." Our home, which we bought recently, also bears it on the deed, as does my insurance. Just lately, I received a check made out to me as "Agnes."

In cashing it I had to refer to my husband's bank account. The book carried my baptismal name "Marjorie." I admit this was confusing. Must I change my name on all legal documents as my husband thinks I should, or remain — Agnes?

Dear "Agnes": I felt your husband was right but to be doubly sure, checked with Sheridan McGarry, my stepson's law partner. He says that regardless of nicknames or "aliases," your legal name is "Marjorie" and advises you to affix it to all the legal documents you mentioned either by signing it beneath the "Agnes" or inserting a paragraph explaining that "Agnes" and "Marjorie" are one and the same person. I'm sorry to take issue with you but feel, as I'm sure your husband does, that this is in your interest.

Dear Helen: It seems like divorce is the only answer for me. I've been married twice and already divorced once. The two daughters by my first marriage hate their stepfather and now live with my mother. He won't let me see or talk with them. This breaks my heart for I love them and they me. But I also love my little girl by my second marriage and so does my husband. Why is he so unreasonable when I treat his daughter by a former marriage as if she were my own child. I can't take his hard-heartedness any longer. Help me — Heartbroken Wife and Mother

Dear Heartbroken Mother: See your problem for what it is: jealousy on the part of your husband for his predecessor. Blinded by it, he strikes out at anything and everything associated with your former husband, including the two daughters by this marriage. As I repeatedly say, jealousy is born of insecurity. Try and make your husband feel that he comes first — and he should. Don't force the issue about your mother and the girls. I take it they are teenagers. Once they become more mature they will be less belligerent. Divorce again and you will be making a revolving door of marriage. Give this one other chance.

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Jealousy."

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC: TOWN MEETING - HOPE CITY HALL MONDAY, JULY 13, 1961 - 2:30 P.M.

The Board of City Directors urge all interested citizens to attend the public hearing on proposed sewer rates set for 2:30 p.m., Monday, July 17th at the City Hall.

The problem confronting Hope at this time is the replacement of a large part of the trunk lines in the old system, which have been in service for about 50 years. The present condition of the sewer mains is not so much due to the age as to the shifting soil in a large part of the city.

The many sewer line stoppages which back sewage up into the user's premises and often flows out on the streets is the result of lines that have been crushed by the shifting soil. Repairing these breaks is expensive besides being a nuisance to the user and a health hazard to the community. Repair jobs are never permanent because when a line is uncovered to repair a break, the other pipe in the line is so badly crushed that it often caves in from the digging necessary to repair the break in the line.

The proposed replacements can be made with better materials than was available at the time the original system was built and should be able to withstand more pressure and give even longer life than the mains now being replaced.

Last year the city obtained federal money to pay for a complete engineering study of the old system of mains. Based on this engineering study, it is estimated that the lines needing immediate replacement will cost $210,000.

The city invited all the municipal bond dealers to submit proposals on the financing of this and have received an offer to finance this at 4.25% interest, including the cost of preparing bonds, legal opinions, etc. In order to sell the bonds, it is necessary that a service charge be established which will provide adequate funds to pay the principal and interest. It is estimated that the proposed rates will retire the indebtedness within 10 years.

The rate schedule proposed by the Board of City Directors is the same as the existing sewer rates except that a residential user will pay a minimum of $1.25 per month, and the commercial user will pay a monthly charge of $1.50. These rates will provide sufficient revenue to meet the financing requirements. It was decided that this would be the most equitable way of financing the cost of replacing these sewer trunk lines.

The public is invited to offer any suggestions and are urged to attend the hearing and get all the information on the problem and the planning that has gone into this program, much of which is too detailed and lengthy to be included in any type of notice. The engineering firm and members of the Water Department who maintain the sewer system will be on hand and should be able to answer any questions in connection with the proposed project.

Thought for the Day

Of all the evil spirits abroad in the world, insincerity is the most dangerous.—Froude said it

Basic Needs of All Children
Needs basic to all children are: 1. Physiological, 2. Social, and 3. Ego or self-need. If children are to grow in the friendly, warm, healthy environment of the community, answers to these inward pressures must be met. If and when these needs are ignored, the result is disturbed, rebellious, and/or delinquent children.

The following persons are working together as a team to purchase facilities so that these needs might be met: Moore Bros. $25; KXAR $20; West Dept Store $10; Lewis-McLarty $10; J. C. Penney Co. $10; Oklahoma Tire & Supply $10; Hope Auto Co. $10; Citizens National Bank $10; First National Bank $10; Owen's Dept Store $10; Burn's Men's Store $10; McGill's Gulf Station $5; Raymond C. Byers $2.50; Chief Jack Brown $5; Diamond Cafe $2.50; Rephan's Dept Store $2.50; Barry's Grocery & Market $3.75; Dick Hoggard for service; Bruner-Ivory Handle Co., baseball bats; Gunter Lumber Co., Bill Wray Supply, and Shirley Buchanan for lumber to floor boxing ring.

We are grateful to the people who are putting forth every effort to help make the City Park Recreation Program better, says Roscoe Smith, supervisor of recreation.

SUSPENSE

A strange, old coin was clutched in Thorney's hand.

CONTRACT FULFILLED

BY LESTER ARNO

Nowadays, what with hydrogen bombs, missiles and men pointed toward outer space, one hardly thinks of the Devil anymore.

Thornleigh Thompson Jones became a prominent member of the international set when he was in his early twenties. Handsome and dashing, he was to be seen wherever the gay, charming set gathered. Cannes, the Lido, Palm Beach, Palm Springs, Walkie Beach Les Ambassadeurs in London, the Pump Room in Chicago—wherever there was Cafe Society, there was Thornleigh Thompson Jones.

Everyone remarked that Thorney never seemed to grow older. Some were quite bitter about it, but it was the truth. Perhaps it was because he was so carefree, perhaps because he took such good care of himself.

A generation of debutantes had been squired by Thorney and now he was gallant to their daughters. (The first generation of debutantes were the ones who were bitter.)

Thorney never seemed to lessen in his skills, either. He still went around in the low seventies; he still excelled at racquets; he still brought down 98 clay pigeons out of every hundred. He was keen of eye and steady of hand.

Naturally, Thorney never married. And the first crop of debutantes whose daughters he was currently squiring was greatly relieved albeit acid in commenting on his bachelorhood.

The men with whom he had golfed and competed at racquets and shot with were somewhat acid too. Thorney now competed against their sons.

Still, no one did anything about it. After all, Thorney was a most pleasant chap, soft spoken, charming, witty—and he did have a great deal of money.

There was some talk about the source of his money in the clubs, the night spots, the locker rooms and after one or two board meetings. But since Thorney always paid his bills on time and could be expected to contribute generously to any charity, even that talk never came to much.

Then, one day Thorney suddenly died. Died, just like that. He was mourned briefly—and then quickly forgotten.

Captain Tim Murphy of Homicide shook his head. "You're wrong, Jack," he said to a police reporter. "Not a sign of foul play. Thorney just up and died. Came into his town house that night after a party. Stretched out in an easy chair and just died. Not a sign of a struggle. No evidence of poison. Nothing. Just dead."

Captain Murphy struck a long kitchen match, waited until he had a good flame and relit his cigar.

"Reminds me of one strange thing about Thorney's death. Strong smell of sulphur in the room. That and two other things. Funny kind of a circle drawn in chalk in the middle of the rug and a strange, old gold coin clutched in Thorney's hand."

In these days of hydrogen bombs, missiles and men pointed toward outer space, it does seem rather old-fashioned to think about the Devil.

THE END

Two Jailed for Rape Near Searcy

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—Two White County men were arrested in an abandoned farmhouse early today and charged in the rape of a 21-year-old female hitchhiker from New York.

Jailed were James Sterling, 19, of Providence and Theron Harmon, 32, of Rosebud. A seven-man posse tracked them down in woods 15 miles northeast of Judsonia after they eluded sheriff's officers earlier.

The rape victim was not identified. She was not seriously hurt.

Sheriff Jack Price said Henry Varnell, marshal at nearby Bald Knob, found the woman in a disheveled condition in a Bald Knob cafe about 3 a.m. Thursday.

She told him she had been raped by two men who picked her up near Bald Knob and took her to a rural road. They let her out several miles from Bald Knob, she said, and she walked into town.

Price said the woman had Sterling's billfold and Harmon was traced through Sterling.

As Price and his deputies were driving up Joy Mountain near Rosebud, hunting for the men, Sterling and Harmon passed them coming down the mountain in a truck. The sheriff's car turned around and gave chase.

The men abandoned the truck and eluded officers in the woods. Price said. Later, however, Price heard from a motorist who had given them a ride and the hunt resumed in the area where they were caught about 1 m.

Phone increase Before the PSC

It also asked authority to borrow $150,000 to expand its rural telephone system in Washington County.

The company serves Prairie Grove and several small communities and rural territory in that area.

Shoots Truck After Accident

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Gus Robbins, 23, of Helena, who police said emptied a .22 caliber pistol into a pickup truck after a minor traffic accident, was scheduled for arraignment today in Washington Circuit Court.

Robbins, a University of Arkansas student, is charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill.

Sheriff Hollis Spencer said Robbins fired nine shots at a truck driven by James Sheppard, 20, of Booneville as Sheppard was fleeing from the accident scene.

Sheppard paid fines and costs totaling $63.50 in Municipal Court Thursday on charges of careless driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

Spencer said seven of the nine bullets hit Sheppard's truck, one shattered the rear window and two punctured tires.

The sheriff said the accident involved only bent fenders.

Burns Fatal to a Small Child

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two-year-old Vivian Kay Tully, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tully of Benton, died here Wednesday of burns suffered two weeks ago when a gasoline-soaked paint brush with which she had been playing was ignited by a match struck by a playmate.

Music Camp Opens

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A 12-day summer music camp will open Sunday at the University of Arkansas with about 175 high school musicians expected to participate. Some of those in attendance will be from Oklahoma and Missouri but most will be from Arkansas.

Dr. Richard Worthington, University of Arkansas band director, will be in charge of the camp.

Soviet Space Man Dines With Queen

LONDON (AP)—Soviet space man Maj. Yuri Gagarin—a four-day worker before he became an astronaut—lunched today with Queen Elizabeth II at Buckingham Palace.

The handsome son of a Russian carpenter sat beside the pretty queen. Across the sumptuously laid table was Her Majesty's 60-year-old, first husband, Prince Philip.

History did a couple of audacious backflips, for the scene of the luncheon was the White and Gold 1884 Room, so called because Tsar Nicholas I dined there that year.

The spaceman wore his air force uniform. With him was Soviet Ambassador Alexander Solodov. About 7,000 people stood in front of the palace to see his enter the gates.

Guests at luncheon included Lord Louis Mountbatten.

Ship Death Toll Placed at 259

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—The Naval command at Lourenço Marques, Mozambique, announced today that 259 persons perished in the explosion and burning of the Portuguese ship, Save, near Quilimane, Mozambique, Saturday. There were 290 survivors. The 2,037-ton coaster was driven ashore by a storm, then torn by explosions in her cargo of dynamite, and finally burned.

Chinese Lift Movie Kissing Ban

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China's movie censor faced the facts of life today and lifted the longtime ban on kissing scenes in Chinese films—if they are an expression of true love.

In the past the censor has cut kissing scenes from Chinese films as "objectionable demonstrations of affection." But chief censor Tu Yi-fang now has decided that "kissing and embracing are conventional expressions of love in actual life."

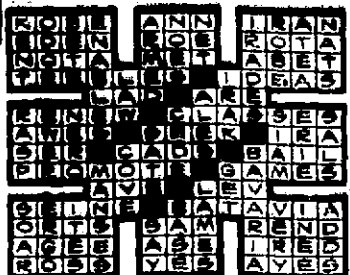

The ban has not applied to American and European movies.

Say "I'm Sorry"

...then bridle your tongue and have a reconciliation. How foolish, how petty, are attitudes which wreck affection and devotion. Hasty words, misunderstanding, false pride, do great harm. Have you been at odds with a friend, one you love, with anybody? That is a delicate and difficult situation. The wedding ceremony is not enough. Even love is inadequate. There must be mutual effort and determined purpose. By their very nature men and women are different. They never see eye-to-eye. But God gave us the institution of marriage and He will help break barriers which separate us when we seek His will. Then, marriage will succeed and each will be proud of the other just because you are so different. A forgiving spirit and a love gift will symbolize your penitence...go to church together. It will help you to say, "I'm Sorry."

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker and attend services regularly.
